World's Fair Talk.

Mrs. W. N. Lynch addressed a large audience at the court house at Moundsville last evening on the subject of the World's Fair. She made an interesting and effective address, and her work is telling for the good of the Fair.

M. M. Babcock Dead.

Mr. Henry M. Babcock, formerly superintendent of the Riverside iron works, died yesterday at his home east of Elm Grove, and will be buried next Sunday at 3 p. m. His death will cause general regret among his old acquaintances.

Smith in the Pen.

Sheriff Buckley, of Wood county, and City Collector Zillenziger, of Parkersburg, were in this city yesterday, having come up from Moundsville, where they left a prisoner in the "pen" for ten years. The prisoner was Smith, who murdered Rexroad in a Parkersburg house of ill fame.

The R. & O. and Terminal.

An INTELLIGENCER reporter was informed yesterday that arrangements are being made to have the trains of the Baltimore & Ohio and Ohio River railroads run into the Terminal system's union depot. A party of Ohio River officials went over the system day before yesterday and seemed to be well pleased with what they saw. It is possible that before many weeks the two railroads will be running passenger trains into the union depot.

A Pleasant Visit Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon the pupils of the preparatory department of Mrs. Hart's school visited the Children's Home with their Easter donation. They took two baskets of fruit, a book for each child, candy, fresh and colored eggs and the like. The little visitors gave several recitations, and the children of the Home entertained them with songs. Mrs. Hart's little pupils have a box into which pennies are dropped for such occasions. It is a commendable idea, and worthy of emulation in other schools.

Funeral of Warren Hollister.

Warren Hollister, of Bridgeport, was buried at Linwood cemetery at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hollister was a prominent and influential member of society and of the M. E. church, and will be missed by the community in which he lived. He was taken sick about two months ago and grew gradually worse until Wednesday morning, when he passed quietly away. The funeral services were held at the M. E. church at Kirkwood yesterday at 2 o'clock and his remains, accompanied by a large concourse of friends, were taken by a special train to Linwood cemetery.

Two Burglars Caught.

Lieutenant Terrill yesterday arrested two men, believed to be William Skelly and John Carroll, wanted in Jersey City for burglary. Some time ago a description was received from C. P. Smith, superintendent of police there, and these two men fitted it so closely that they were locked up and a telegram sent to Superintendent Smith, who answered requesting that the men be held, and saying that he would be here after them as soon as he could get requisition papers. The men were committed as fugitives from justice. Photographs of them will be taken and sent on to Jersey City to make it absolutely certain that they are the two men wanted.

Among the Police.

Clerk Fee, of the police court yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of John Winchel for maintaining a slaughter house at 3416 Jacob street, contrary to law.

Acting Mayor Jepson presided in police court yesterday, in the absence of Mayor Seabright. Hackmire, who made a disturbance on the streetcar the other day, was fined $5 and cost, and a man accused of a filthy act in the Second ward market house went to the jail for thirty days in default of $2 and costs.

Ed Star, a tramp, was locked up yesterday, drunk.
Max Stollor, a youth who is believed to have run away from the Moravia reform school, was locked up by Officer Moran yesterday.

Transfers Recorded.

Clerk Hook yesterday admitted to record transfers of real estate as follows:

June 30, 1891, by Lisle M. Stevenson to O. C. Orr, for $20, all the interest of the party of the first part in the estate of A. M. Orr.

March 29, by O. C. Orr and wife to D. S. Reed, for $3,800, two tracts of land, part of the estate of the late A. M. Reed.

DR. HENNING'S SARSAPARILLA WILL DO IT!

MAIER IS ARRAIGNED.

Pleads not Guilty and says he Cannot Pay Counsel Fees.

TWO LAWYERS ARE ASSIGNED HIM

And His Case is set for Next Wednesday—Other Criminal Cases on the Docket Numerous enough to Keep the Court Busy the Whole Term.

In the Circuit Court yesterday the dockets were called and the cases set for trial. In Part II there are enough serious criminal cases to occupy the full term, and the docket on the other side is pretty heavy. The only episode of interest yesterday was the arraignment of Wilhelm Maier, the wife murderer, who pleads not guilty, and when inquired of as to whether he had counsel, said he had not, nor had he means to employ lawyers. The court therefore assigned G. W. Atkinson and John Coniff to conduct the defense, and the case was set for next Wednesday, April 20.

Thirty jurors had already been drawn for both parts on and after Monday and twenty-five more were ordered to be drawn and summoned for Wednesday and one hundred for the following Monday.

The important criminal cases on the docket were set for trial on the following dates:

William Maier, Wednesday, April 20.
Frank Church, Monday, May 16.
Mary Leslie, Friday, April 22.
Jack Probasco, Monday, May 23.
Charles M. Ender, embezzlement, Monday, May 16.
C. Devinney and J. Duffy, larceny, April 21.
Patrick O'Neal, May 19.
Earnest and O'Neal, April 21.
George I. Garrison, Monday, April 25.
John Wilson pleads guilty to the indictment against him for petit larceny, and was given thirty days in jail.
Mary Ann Green and Annie Costello, in jail—under the bad fame act, were dismissed on agreeing to leave the city.
Henry Brunhaus was released from the $5,000 bail bond of Frank Church, as he proposes to move out of the state. Charles Kline signed the bond.
Thomas Strickler pleads guilty of an attempt at burglary, and sentence was deferred till Saturday.
Jack Earnest was yesterday released on $250 bond. He is indicted with Pudge O'Neal for larceny.

MURDERER MAIER.

It is Thought the Defense will be Insanity. After the Reward.

Wilhelm Maier was asked in a conversation in the court room yesterday how he came to kill his wife, and he said he was crazy; that if he had been in his right mind he would not have done it.

Mr. Atkinson, of his counsel, after he met him, expressed the opinion that he was insane, and it is believed that insanity will be the defense. It is about the only defense possible.

Yesterday claimants of a part of the reward besieged the sheriff and the chief of police. The chief told one of the claimants, who had a chance to take Maier into custody and did not do it, that he ought to have a leather medal for his course, which nearly resulted in Maier's escape.

One of the peculiar reports yesterday was brought to police headquarters by a woman from East Wheeling, who said Maier had been hiding in a house in the alley south of Sixteenth street, with a family named Kline, ever since the murder. She says he was out of the house several times, and his only attempt at disguise was a false mustache. This tallies with the story of a woman who said she saw Maier and that he had a mustache.

There is a well defined rumor that Maier was hiding in the pawpaw bushes near the Peninsular cemetery when his wife was buried, and saw the funeral. His own story of his wanderings and his statement that he had nothing to eat for three days, was corroborated by the fact that after he was locked up in jail he ate three loaves of bread, besides a good deal of other substantial food.

Mrs. George Wilhelm said to an INTELLIGENCER reporter last night that she wanted it understood that her efforts to stop Maier and cause his capture were not inspired by any thought of the reward. She desired to see the man brought to justice, and felt indignant that none of the men who could have caught him made any effort to do so.

TALKED WITH THE DIRECTORS.

But the Trouble About the Discharged Men is not Yet Settled.

Yesterday evening the road committee of the street car conductors' and operators' union held a conference with the directors of the street car company, and asked for the reinstatement of the seven men recently discharged by Superintendent Harrington. After the meeting both sides were close-mouthed, and refused to say whether the directors had agreed to take the men back. A meeting of the union was held at midnight, and the road committee reported that the directors would give their decision later. Things are in statu quo at present, and the cars will continue to run, for awhile at least.

After the Grip Hood's Sarasaparilla will restore your strength and health, and expel every trace of poison from the blood.
